Additional Information

About me

I'm considering jobs in Front-end development, mostly interested in working with React JS. At the moment I consider jobs in remote format.
Strengths: technical mindset, quick learner, ability to explain complex tasks to other people in simple language (mentoring).   During the studies at university, during classes I chose Web development for myself, and decided to develop in this direction.
In the courses I did projects on React, but I am also familiar with frameworks Angular, Vue.
